

GOVERNMENT RAILWAYS.

GOVERNMENT TOURIST BUREAU.
HAWKSLEY RIVER ROUND TRIP.
OPENING OF THE SEASON.

TUESDAY, SIX A.M. AND EVERY WEDNESDAY AND SATURDAY THEREAFTER.
By steamer to HAWKSLEY RIVER, by 9.5 a.m. via, E.S.C. CO. via river, Broken Bay, and Pittwater, to Newport, 2.15 p.m. Coach to Manly and Ferry to Circular Quay.

9.5 a.m. Steamer to Manly, 10.15 a.m. Coach to Pittwater, 12.15 p.m. E.S.C. Co. to Hawksley River, and rail to Sydney.

1. DAY TICKETS (First-class only), 6d, covering all travelling expenses.

Issue at City Railway Ticket Office, Sydney Station, Stratford, Milson's Point, or Manly Booking Office.

CENTRAL RAILWAY CAMP, ON PLATEAU OF SYDNEY STATION.

3-COURSE DINNER, 1s.

AFTERNOON TEA—Strawberries, fruit, and confectionery, 1s each.
Tobacco and Cigars, Pipe, etc.

MEALS AVAILABLE FROM 6 A.M. TILL 11.30 P.M.

OPEN SUNDAYS AND HOLIDAYS.

LADIES' COCKTAIL, AND BEST APPOINTED REHEATMENT IN THE SOUTHERN HEMISPHERE.

P. HART, LUNCHES.

AMUSEMENTS.

THE CLARA BUTT AND KENNERLEY RUMFORD.

TO-MORROW, SATURDAY EVENING.

MATINEE THURSDAY AFTERNOON.

SPECIAL MATINEE, ONE MATINEE.

NEXT THURSDAY AFTERNOON, AT 2 o'clock.

The Only Matinee of the Season.

TOWN HALL, J. and N. TATE.

FIFTH CONCERT, (TUESDAY) EVENING,

at 8 o'clock.

MADAME CLARA BUTT.

CLARA BUTT.

CLARA BUTT.

MR. KENNERLEY RUMFORD.

MR. KENNERLEY RUMFORD.

MR. KENNERLEY RUMFORD.

Supported by Mr. CARL BARRETT, Mr. FRANK MERRICK, Mr. ARTHUR GODFREY, Mr. EDWARD SYKES.

To-morrow Evening Madam CLARA BUTT will sing—"My Sweet, My Heart!" (Simon and Delilah).

MOTHER ENGLAND (by request), E. C. Booth.

The Little Silver Ring.

MR. KENNERLEY RUMFORD.

Dear Love of Mine (Nedda).

Gloria Thomas.

Mr. KENNERLEY RUMFORD will sing—"Old Welsh Air, This Night!"

Shepherd, See They Hours Passing Name (Hamgarian folk song).

Requiem.

Did You Know? (Madame Valere White).

"Song of the Almond Bloom."

Box Plans for the remaining Concerts now open at Paling's.

Owing to the increasing audiences attending these Concerts it is advised to book seats beforehand at Paling's, to prevent disappointment in gaining admission.

PRICES.—
Matinee, 5s.
Evening, 10s.

If there is room, a limited number of 5s Tickets will be sold nightly at the Cathedral door shortly after 7.30.

MATINÉE THURSDAY AFTERNOON,
at 5 o'clock.

EVENING CONCERT,
SATURDAY EVENING NEXT.

THE FIGURE EIGHT
and SCENIC RAILWAY,
COOEE.

TREMENDOUS SUCCESS.

8 CARS AT FULL SPEED.

The formation of a Lifetime.

EVERY AFTERNOON AND EVENING.

H.C.O.O.E. Train every few minutes to Plateau.

TOWN PETERHAM, H.A.L. opposite Criterion Theatre.

EVERY EVENING AT 8 O'CLOCK,
THE BEACON LIGHT OF THE WORLD.

THE LONDON BIO-TABLEAUX.

in conjunction with THE ELECTRIC LIGHT THEATRE,
THE LONDON BIO-TABLEAUX.

PRICES: 2s. and 6d. Book Early.

ST. JAMES', TO NIGHT, TO-NIGHT,

In aid of the Poor of the Poor.

Half-splitting Fare.

POOR FELLOWS.

and Many Other Benefiting Artists.

PRICES: 6d and 1s. Box Paling's.

W.M.C.A. HALL, PETERHAM, TO NIGHT.

Miss Leibnitz, Song, Coda, "In a Persian Garden," and other songs, and Ballads. Also at doors. Doors open 7.15 p.m.

Hon. Dr. JARVIE HOOD.

CANTERBURY PARK, RACES.

SATURDAY, 15TH OCTOBER, 1907.

PLAYING HANDICAP, 20 sows, six furlongs and SUMMER FLAT RACE, 20 sows, about one mile and a quarter.

PARK STAKES, 20 sows, six furlongs, weight 7st. 7lb.

CANTERBURY HANDICAP, 20 sows, one mile and a quarter.

BEST OF THE RACE, 20 sows, heaviest weight 7st. 7lb.

For full particulars see Programmes.

Enter at the above Close at 4 p.m. THIS DAY.

14th OCTOBER.

W. L. DAVIS,
Secretary.

NEWCASTLE RACES.

WEDNESDAY NEXT, OCT. 16, 1907,

AND

SATURDAY NEXT, OCT. 19, 1907.

LARGE FIELD PLEASANT TRIP.

A SPECIAL TRAIN will leave Sydney at 4 o'clock, and arrive at NEWCASTLE, 11.15 (First class 2.10), and will return, leaving Newcastle at 5.30.

Trains from the Railway Station direct to the Course.

Combination Tickets (Right Through), as usual.

J. GREENHALF,
Secretary.

ONE COVE, ELECTRICAL.

Mr. DAVID FELL invites the Members of his Club to meet him at ONE COVE, HARBOUR PIER, on THURSDAY EVENING NEXT, the 18th OCTOBER, 1907, when we will have the entertainment Wharfs as follows:

Ryde, 6 o'clock; Gladstone, 7.15; Hurley, 7.30; Woolloomooloo, 7.30; Greenwich, 7.45; Milson's Point, 7.45; Oct. 11, 1907.

THE MOST POPULAR RINK IN SYDNEY.

Ladies' Skates, Mr. Gentlemen's 1s.

DALANCE SKATING RINK, RINDA.

OCEAN BEACH, MARLY.

Open daily from 10 A.M. to 10 P.M.

Tickets including Return Steamer Fare, Admission per Head, 1s.

COLONIAL GARDENS.

OPEN 10 A.M. TO 4 P.M. WEEK DAYS.

2 TO 5 P.M. SUNDAYS.

THE WAY TO KENMARE.

ONLY MATINEE.

WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON SEAT, AS L.

Children Half-price to All Parks.

THE MIDNIGHT WEDDING.

Under the Direction of J. C. WILLIAMSON.

THE MIDNIGHT WEDDING.

LAST THREE WEEKS.

LAST THREE WEEKS.

And

FAREWELL PERFORMANCES IN SYDNEY.

FAREWELL PERFORMANCES IN SYDNEY.

of the Popular Irish Comedians,

ANDREW MACK, ANDREW MACK.

For which the following programme is arranged:

THIS MONDAY, OCTOBER 14,

and for

FOUR MORE NIGHTS, and ONE MATINEE.

THE WAY TO KENMARE,

with DAN MAGUIRE.

LAST THREE WEEKS.

LAST THREE WEEKS.

And

FAREWELL PERFORMANCES IN SYDNEY.

FAREWELL PERFORMANCES IN SYDNEY.

of the Popular Irish Comedians,

ANDREW MACK, ANDREW MACK.

For which the following programme is arranged:

THIS MONDAY, OCTOBER 14,

and for

FOUR MORE NIGHTS, and ONE MATINEE.

THE WAY TO KENMARE,

with DAN MAGUIRE.

LAST THREE WEEKS.

LAST THREE WEEKS.

And

FAREWELL PERFORMANCES IN SYDNEY.

FAREWELL PERFORMANCES IN SYDNEY.

of the Popular Irish Comedians,

ANDREW MACK, ANDREW MACK.

For which the following programme is arranged:

THIS MONDAY, OCTOBER 14,

and for

FOUR MORE NIGHTS, and ONE MATINEE.

THE WAY TO KENMARE,

with DAN MAGUIRE.

LAST THREE WEEKS.

LAST THREE WEEKS.

And

FAREWELL PERFORMANCES IN SYDNEY.

FAREWELL PERFORMANCES IN SYDNEY.

of the Popular Irish Comedians,

ANDREW MACK, ANDREW MACK.

For which the following programme is arranged:

THIS MONDAY, OCTOBER 14,

and for

FOUR MORE NIGHTS, and ONE MATINEE.

THE WAY TO KENMARE,

with DAN MAGUIRE.

LAST THREE WEEKS.

LAST THREE WEEKS.

And

FAREWELL PERFORMANCES IN SYDNEY.

FAREWELL PERFORMANCES IN SYDNEY.

of the Popular Irish Comedians,

ANDREW MACK, ANDREW MACK.

For which the following programme is arranged:

THIS MONDAY, OCTOBER 14,

and for

FOUR MORE NIGHTS, and ONE MATINEE

THE WAY TO KENMARE.

A six nights' revival of "The Way to Kenmare" was commenced at His Majesty's Theatre on Saturday evening, before a crowded house. In one of the scenes, before making a run for the leading role of Rose Donald was sumptuously dressed in Miss MacKenzie Stevenson. The part hardly fitted Miss Stevenson's style, but nevertheless carried it through well, and was well received.

"You, Highness, the goddess Devi has a word for your ear alone," Ralston, with a shrug of his shoulders, walked his horse through the curtain.

The lady spoke through the curtain in a whisper.

"Your Excellency has been very kind to me, and I am glad to leave Peshawar with the third act in the hands of the goddess Devi. She arrived at the great pomp, and there was some trouble in the streets as the procession passed through to the temple, which had to be quelled by the police force. For the Hindus on the one hand firmly believed in her divinity. The lady came of a class which held in disdain the poor and prestige in India, but she had no reason in the eyes of the faithful why she should say she was the Goddess Devi. They were not here. Therefore she had to leave the city.

The Mohammandans on the other hand, Afghans from the far side of the Khyber, men of the Hasmawat, and the Aksas, the Adams, the Akashas, the Kafirs, the Rohans and Tims, and the Arakan country—any who had come to that wild and crowded town, turned out to see what had occurred.

As they passed through the crowd, the bearers of the litter stepped forward on their march through the caustic air. Ralston rode up on his horse, and the bearers of the litter followed him again, and the bearers of the litter were broken, and some property damaged, before the litter could be able to pass through the crowd.

"I have heard anything of a melody and a band of grain?" he wrote. "It seems an absurd question, but people make inquiries.

The messenger carried the letter over the Malakand Pass and up the road to Dilkusha.

After dinner, he had been to the Residencie at Khar, on the chance that he would be able to hear the band of grain.

"I have heard nothing of a melody and a band of grain," he wrote. "It seems an absurd question, but people make inquiries.

The messenger carried the letter over the Malakand Pass and up the road to Dilkusha.

"What message could they have?" he asked. "And who sent them? And to whom?"

Daner there was, as Ralston on his morning ride through the streets could not but understand. The band of grain was a noisy, and upon that corner of an open space, and upon that open space a noisy and excited crowd surged all day, while from the countryside, from the hills, from the plains, from the villages, and from the towns, came a roar of a fight, trooped daily in through the gates of Peshawar. Ralston understood that the time had come for him to ride to the Residencie at Khar, and to speak with his husband.

"But you will take a guard," said Colonel Ward of the Oxfordshires, who had been lunching with Ralston. "I'll send a company down with you."

"No, thank you," said Ralston listlessly. "I think my men will do just as well."

"You know, Ralston, you are very rash. Your predecessor never rode into the city without an escort."

"I know," returned the Colonel, "and that's where you are wrong. Some day something will happen. To go down with two good men, and to stand alone, is to speak seriously."

The place is in ferment," said Ralston, and he rode at a trot down Government Street, and the Fort to the gate of Peshawar.

At the gate he reduced the trot to a walk, and so, with his two horses behind him, he rode into the city.

Ralston was brought to a standstill, and he turned his horse to the right, and rode into the Malakand Pass and up the road to Dilkusha.

After dinner, he had been to the Residencie at Khar, on the chance that he would be able to hear the band of grain.

"I have heard nothing of a melody and a band of grain," he wrote. "It seems an absurd question, but people make inquiries.

The messenger carried the letter over the Malakand Pass and up the road to Dilkusha.

"What message could they have?" he asked. "And who sent them? And to whom?"

Daner there was, as Ralston on his morning ride through the streets could not but understand. The band of grain was a noisy, and upon that corner of an open space, and upon that open space a noisy and excited crowd surged all day, while from the countryside, from the hills, from the plains, from the villages, and from the towns, came a roar of a fight, trooped daily in through the gates of Peshawar. Ralston understood that the time had come for him to ride to the Residencie at Khar, and to speak with his husband.

"But you will take a guard," said Colonel Ward of the Oxfordshires, who had been lunching with Ralston. "I'll send a company down with you."

"No, thank you," said Ralston listlessly. "I think my men will do just as well."

"You know, Ralston, you are very rash. Your predecessor never rode into the city without an escort."

"I know," returned the Colonel, "and that's where you are wrong. Some day something will happen. To go down with two good men, and to stand alone, is to speak seriously."

The place is in ferment," said Ralston, and he rode at a trot down Government Street, and the Fort to the gate of Peshawar.

At the gate he reduced the trot to a walk, and so, with his two horses behind him, he rode into the city.

Ralston was brought to a standstill, and he turned his horse to the right, and rode into the Malakand Pass and up the road to Dilkusha.

After dinner, he had been to the Residencie at Khar, on the chance that he would be able to hear the band of grain.

"I have heard nothing of a melody and a band of grain," he wrote. "It seems an absurd question, but people make inquiries.

The messenger carried the letter over the Malakand Pass and up the road to Dilkusha.

"What message could they have?" he asked. "And who sent them? And to whom?"

Daner there was, as Ralston on his morning ride through the streets could not but understand. The band of grain was a noisy, and upon that corner of an open space, and upon that open space a noisy and excited crowd surged all day, while from the countryside, from the hills, from the plains, from the villages, and from the towns, came a roar of a fight, trooped daily in through the gates of Peshawar. Ralston understood that the time had come for him to ride to the Residencie at Khar, and to speak with his husband.

"But you will take a guard," said Colonel Ward of the Oxfordshires, who had been lunching with Ralston. "I'll send a company down with you."

"No, thank you," said Ralston listlessly. "I think my men will do just as well."

"You know, Ralston, you are very rash. Your predecessor never rode into the city without an escort."

"I know," returned the Colonel, "and that's where you are wrong. Some day something will happen. To go down with two good men, and to stand alone, is to speak seriously."

The place is in ferment," said Ralston, and he rode at a trot down Government Street, and the Fort to the gate of Peshawar.

At the gate he reduced the trot to a walk, and so, with his two horses behind him, he rode into the city.

Ralston was brought to a standstill, and he turned his horse to the right, and rode into the Malakand Pass and up the road to Dilkusha.

After dinner, he had been to the Residencie at Khar, on the chance that he would be able to hear the band of grain.

"I have heard nothing of a melody and a band of grain," he wrote. "It seems an absurd question, but people make inquiries.

The messenger carried the letter over the Malakand Pass and up the road to Dilkusha.

"What message could they have?" he asked. "And who sent them? And to whom?"

Daner there was, as Ralston on his morning ride through the streets could not but understand. The band of grain was a noisy, and upon that corner of an open space, and upon that open space a noisy and excited crowd surged all day, while from the countryside, from the hills, from the plains, from the villages, and from the towns, came a roar of a fight, trooped daily in through the gates of Peshawar. Ralston understood that the time had come for him to ride to the Residencie at Khar, and to speak with his husband.

"But you will take a guard," said Colonel Ward of the Oxfordshires, who had been lunching with Ralston. "I'll send a company down with you."

"No, thank you," said Ralston listlessly. "I think my men will do just as well."

"You know, Ralston, you are very rash. Your predecessor never rode into the city without an escort."

"I know," returned the Colonel, "and that's where you are wrong. Some day something will happen. To go down with two good men, and to stand alone, is to speak seriously."

The place is in ferment," said Ralston, and he rode at a trot down Government Street, and the Fort to the gate of Peshawar.

At the gate he reduced the trot to a walk, and so, with his two horses behind him, he rode into the city.

Ralston was brought to a standstill, and he turned his horse to the right, and rode into the Malakand Pass and up the road to Dilkusha.

After dinner, he had been to the Residencie at Khar, on the chance that he would be able to hear the band of grain.

"I have heard nothing of a melody and a band of grain," he wrote. "It seems an absurd question, but people make inquiries.

The messenger carried the letter over the Malakand Pass and up the road to Dilkusha.

"What message could they have?" he asked. "And who sent them? And to whom?"

Daner there was, as Ralston on his morning ride through the streets could not but understand. The band of grain was a noisy, and upon that corner of an open space, and upon that open space a noisy and excited crowd surged all day, while from the countryside, from the hills, from the plains, from the villages, and from the towns, came a roar of a fight, trooped daily in through the gates of Peshawar. Ralston understood that the time had come for him to ride to the Residencie at Khar, and to speak with his husband.

"But you will take a guard," said Colonel Ward of the Oxfordshires, who had been lunching with Ralston. "I'll send a company down with you."

"No, thank you," said Ralston listlessly. "I think my men will do just as well."

"You know, Ralston, you are very rash. Your predecessor never rode into the city without an escort."

"I know," returned the Colonel, "and that's where you are wrong. Some day something will happen. To go down with two good men, and to stand alone, is to speak seriously."

The place is in ferment," said Ralston, and he rode at a trot down Government Street, and the Fort to the gate of Peshawar.

At the gate he reduced the trot to a walk, and so, with his two horses behind him, he rode into the city.

Ralston was brought to a standstill, and he turned his horse to the right, and rode into the Malakand Pass and up the road to Dilkusha.

After dinner, he had been to the Residencie at Khar, on the chance that he would be able to hear the band of grain.

"I have heard nothing of a melody and a band of grain," he wrote. "It seems an absurd question, but people make inquiries.

The messenger carried the letter over the Malakand Pass and up the road to Dilkusha.

"What message could they have?" he asked. "And who sent them? And to whom?"

Daner there was, as Ralston on his morning ride through the streets could not but understand. The band of grain was a noisy, and upon that corner of an open space, and upon that open space a noisy and excited crowd surged all day, while from the countryside, from the hills, from the plains, from the villages, and from the towns, came a roar of a fight, trooped daily in through the gates of Peshawar. Ralston understood that the time had come for him to ride to the Residencie at Khar, and to speak with his husband.

"But you will take a guard," said Colonel Ward of the Oxfordshires, who had been lunching with Ralston. "I'll send a company down with you."

"No, thank you," said Ralston listlessly. "I think my men will do just as well."

"You know, Ralston, you are very rash. Your predecessor never rode into the city without an escort."

"I know," returned the Colonel, "and that's where you are wrong. Some day something will happen. To go down with two good men, and to stand alone, is to speak seriously."

The place is in ferment," said Ralston, and he rode at a trot down Government Street, and the Fort to the gate of Peshawar.

At the gate he reduced the trot to a walk, and so, with his two horses behind him, he rode into the city.

Ralston was brought to a standstill, and he turned his horse to the right, and rode into the Malakand Pass and up the road to Dilkusha.

After dinner, he had been to the Residencie at Khar, on the chance that he would be able to hear the band of grain.

"I have heard nothing of a melody and a band of grain," he wrote. "It seems an absurd question, but people make inquiries.

The messenger carried the letter over the Malakand Pass and up the road to Dilkusha.

"What message could they have?" he asked. "And who sent them? And to whom?"

Daner there was, as Ralston on his morning ride through the streets could not but understand. The band of grain was a noisy, and upon that corner of an open space, and upon that open space a noisy and excited crowd surged all day, while from the countryside, from the hills, from the plains, from the villages, and from the towns, came a roar of a fight, trooped daily in through the gates of Peshawar. Ralston understood that the time had come for him to ride to the Residencie at Khar, and to speak with his husband.

"But you will take a guard," said Colonel Ward of the Oxfordshires, who had been lunching with Ralston. "I'll send a company down with you."

"No, thank you," said Ralston listlessly. "I think my men will do just as well."

"You know, Ralston, you are very rash. Your predecessor never rode into the city without an escort."

"I know," returned the Colonel, "and that's where you are wrong. Some day something will happen. To go down with two good men, and to stand alone, is to speak seriously."

The place is in ferment," said Ralston, and he rode at a trot down Government Street, and the Fort to the gate of Peshawar.

At the gate he reduced the trot to a walk, and so, with his two horses behind him, he rode into the city.

Ralston was brought to a standstill, and he turned his horse to the right, and rode into the Malakand Pass and up the road to Dilkusha.

After dinner, he had been to the Residencie at Khar, on the chance that he would be able to hear the band of grain.

"I have heard nothing of a melody and a band of grain," he wrote. "It seems an absurd question, but people make inquiries.

The messenger carried the letter over the Malakand Pass and up the road to Dilkusha.

"What message could they have?" he asked. "And who sent them? And to whom?"

Daner there was, as Ralston on his morning ride through the streets could not but understand. The band of grain was a noisy, and upon that corner of an open space, and upon that open space a noisy and excited crowd surged all day, while from the countryside, from the hills, from the plains, from the villages, and from the towns, came a roar of a fight, trooped daily in through the gates of Peshawar. Ralston understood that the time had come for him to ride to the Residencie at Khar, and to speak with his husband.

"But you will take a guard," said Colonel Ward of the Oxfordshires, who had been lunching with Ralston. "I'll send a company down with you."

"No, thank you," said Ralston listlessly. "I think my men will do just as well."

"You know, Ralston, you are very rash. Your predecessor never rode into the city without an escort."

"I know," returned the Colonel, "and that's where you are wrong. Some day something will happen. To go down with two good men, and to stand alone, is to speak seriously."

The place is in ferment," said Ralston, and he rode at a trot down Government Street, and the Fort to the gate of Peshawar.

At the gate he reduced the trot to a walk, and so, with his two horses behind him, he rode into the city.

Ralston was brought to a standstill, and he turned his horse to the right, and rode into the Malakand Pass and up the road to Dilkusha.

After dinner, he had been to the Residencie at Khar, on the chance that he would be able to hear the band of grain.

"I have heard nothing of a melody and a band of grain," he wrote. "It seems an absurd question, but people make inquiries.

The messenger carried the letter over

3 ROOMS OF FURNITURE
FOR £34 15 0.

This is our No. 5 Estimate for Purchasing a Cottage throughout.
Buy your Furniture and Furnishings, and plenty of them, for your three-roomed home.

FURNITURE FOR THE KITCHEN.
FURNITURE FOR THE BEDROOM.

You can come and select the goods, or you can choose them from our Catalogue, which we send free to any address.

COUNTRY RESIDENTS—WRITE FOR OUR
CATALOGUE OF FURNITURE. IT COSTS NOTHING.

ALL GOODS PLAINLY PRICED.—
CASH PAYMENTS. COUNTRY ORDERS
Packed Free.

A. HALL AND COMPANY,
51-57 GEORGE-STREET, opposite Anthony Horden and Sons, BRICKFIELD-HILL.
LEAVE TRAM AT LIVERPOOL-STREET.

COOKERY BOOKS FREE.

A GOOD CLOTH-BOUND COOKERY BOOK, "GOOD THINGS," ALL ENGLISH RECIPES, WILL BE GIVEN BY YOU IN EXCHANGE FOR THREE OUTSIDE WRAPPERS OF "THE CELEBRATED."

YORKSHIRE RELISH
YORKSHIRE RELISH.

AS SUPPLIED TO H.M. THE KING.

THE MOST DELICIOUS SAUCE IN THE WORLD.
THE LARGEST SALE OF ANY SAUCE IN THE WORLD.

Manuf., GOODALL, BACKHOUSE, and CO., Leeds, England.

THE FAMOUS 'PHONE, 364 CENTRAL.

YOUNGER COOKING STOVES

WILL LAST AS LONG AS YOUR HOME. EVERY ONE GUARANTEED.

STOVES, FROM £2 12 EACH.

G. FLETCHER AND SON, MAKERS,
OXFORD-SQUARE, OXFORD-STREET, SYDNEY.

OPEN WEDNESDAY ALL DAY. CLOSE SATURDAY, 1 P.M.

STOCK, SHARES, AND MONEY.

FAVOURABLY KNOWN

THROUGHOUT THE STATE.

OUR MANY LETTERS OF THANKS FROM CLIENTS PROVE IT.

TRANSACT YOUR FINANCIAL BUSINESS WITH A REPUTABLE FIRM.

CALDWELL AND WATT, 9 CASTLEREAGH-ST, NEAR HUNTER-ST.

WHY PAY EXORTORIAL INTEREST

WHICH YOU CAN OBTAIN A PRIVATE LOAN TO ANY AMOUNT ON Furniture, or any reasonable Security (without possession). MY CHARGE IS ONLY FOR EVERY £100 ADVANCED, repayable in one month.

MONTES. I don't trouble you to ask my terms, as they are right out what an advance will cost; also pay off any existing Loan at above rate.

NO FINES, ETC., CHARGED.

GEO. W. GODWIN, 178 Phillip-street, city, 3 doors from King-street.

MONEY

ADVANCED UPON ALL CLASSES OF SECURITY AT LOW RATES OF INTEREST AND UPON EAST TERMS OF REPAYMENT, BY THE N.S.W. MONT DE PIETE D. & I. CO., LTD., 74 CASTLEREAGH-STREET, 74, SYDNEY (Head Office).

186 CASTLEREAGH-STREET, 186. (Private Entrance through Vestibule, 37 Park-st.) CITY.

104 GEORGE-ST. 104, nearly opposite Grace Hotel.

And at MELBOURNE, BRISBANE, and NEWCASTLE. ERNSTACE BENNETT, General Manager.

FREE ACCIDENT INSURANCE POLICIES PRESENTED TO CUSTOMERS.

THIS COMPANY WAS FORMED TO SUPPRESS USURY.

MONEY LENT BY A. WOLPER,

ELIZABETH-STREET, SYDNEY, between King and Hunter streets; Established 1888; on Furniture, Sewing Machines, and other Securities. AT REASONABLE RATE of Interest. EASY RE-PAYMENT.

Established in 1888; on Furniture, Sewing Machines, and other Securities. At REASONABLE RATE of Interest. EASY RE-PAYMENT.

The Public who have had dealings with us in the past, I am sure of their confidence.

TERMS: 10% down payment, 10% interest, monthly, and 10% principal paid monthly.

THE PRICES. OFFICE HOURS: 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. BRANCH OFFICES: 65 Gibbons-street, Glebe, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

WILL PAY INTEREST ON THE LOWEST IMPORTANT TO BORROWERS.

COMPARE MY PRICES WITH OTHER LENDERS AND PAY NO INTEREST.

ESTABLISHED 45 YEARS.

WE ARE THE LOWEST LENDER IN THE STATE.

WE PAY NO INTEREST.

BIRTHS.
DAVIES.—October 13, at Wolseley-road, Point Piper, the wife of L. J. Davies, etc.

MARRIAGES.

PATRICK.—Lester—September 15, 1907, at Crow's Nest Presbyterian Church, the Rev. Mr. George Fletcher, to Lydia, eldest daughter of Harry Carter, of Crow's Nest.

DEATHS.

BOWEN.—October 13, 1907, at her parents' residence, 21 View-street, Annandale, Hilda Hosier, the dearly loved mother of Mr. and Mrs. Bowen. A lad in heaven.

CARTER.—October 13, at 21 Bridge-road, Forest Lodge, Mrs. M. E. Carter, aged 70 years. Also Mr. and Mrs. E. Carter, of Simmon's-street, Eastwood, aged 10 months.

CHAPMAN.—Mother of her parents' residence, Lorna Herries-street, Marrickville. Phyllis Amy, dearly loved daughter of Failla and Anna Crofts, aged 5 years.

DRUCE.—October 13, 1907, at her parents' residence, Ashford, North-street, Stanmore. Ethel Amelia, the dearly loved daughter of James T. and Mary Druse, aged 26 years.

GARVAN.—October 12, 1907, at his residence, 218 St. Peters, St. Peters, Delia Garvan, R.I.P. (See Obituary.)

GIBSON.—October 4, 1907, at Newington, N.S.W., Margaret Gibson, the beloved wife of the Rev. W. G. Gibson, of the Ministry of Berwick-upon-Tweed, England. R.I.P. Home papers please copy.

HODGE.—October 13, 1907, at Marion-crescent, Chatswood, Mrs. Hodge, the dearly loved younger daughter of Edwin S. and Frances R. Outram, of Marion-crescent, Chatswood. Also Mr. and Mrs. Herbert C. Outram, of Marion-crescent, Chatswood. W. H. and Irene Outram, New York, U.S.A., aged 19 years and 7 months.

HEATH.—October 11, Mary Seaton, dearly beloved mother of Frederick George Seaton, of Moorebank-street, Redfern.

HEDDERON.—At Ryde Hospital, the result of an operation, October 13, 1907, Patrick Sherin, of Forbes-street, Newtown, and late of Bowraville, Pyrmont, aged 66 years. R.I.P.

SMITH.—October 13, 1907, Sydney, Thomas Smith (late of Bathurst), aged 51 years.

IN MEMORIAM.

BARTON.—In loving memory of our dear wife and our dear mother, Alice E. Barton, who departed this life October 12, 1907, at her home.

CHARITY.—In sad and loving memory of my dear wife, Margaret Charity, who departed this life October 12, 1907, at her home.

Long days and nights she bore her pain,

But God alone, who knows best,

Did ease her pain, and grant her rest.

Rest in peace, O Charity.

CHARITY.—In loving memory of our dear mother, Margaret Charity, who departed this life October 12, 1907, at her home.

Though your death was dear, dear mother,

Your love will live on and never leave.

We send our love to your grave.

Respectfully yours, her three loving daughters, Lilly, Annie, and Rose.

BUCKENHAM.—In loving memory of my dear husband, and father, Abraham Lazarus, who departed this life October 13, 1907, at his home, 10, Bondi, and daughter, G. H. H.

MCGOWAN.—In loving memory of my dear husband, and father, Michael McGowan, who departed this life on October 14, 1907. Though lost to sight, to never be seen again, by his sorrowing wife, and son, Jim.

NEWLAND.—In loving memory of my little daughter, Gladys, wife of Newland, who departed this life October 14, 1907, at her home.

NEWLAND.—In loving memory of my dear mother, Mary James, who departed this life October 14, 1907, at her home, by her loving daughter, Emily, Daisy, and Alice.

LAZARUS.—In fond, loving memory of my dear husband and father, Abraham Lazarus, who departed this life October 14, 1907, at his home, 10, Bondi, and daughter, G. H. H.

MCGOWAN.—In loving memory of my dear husband, and father, Michael McGowan, who departed this life on October 14, 1907. Though lost to sight, to never be seen again, by his sorrowing wife, and son, Jim.

NEWLAND.—In loving memory of my little daughter, Gladys, wife of Newland, who departed this life October 14, 1907, at her home.

NEWLAND.—In loving memory of my dear mother, Mary James, who departed this life October 14, 1907, at her home, by her loving daughter, Emily, Daisy, and Alice.

LAZARUS.—In fond, loving memory of my dear husband and father, Abraham Lazarus, who departed this life October 14, 1907, at his home, 10, Bondi, and daughter, G. H. H.

MCGOWAN.—In loving memory of my dear husband, and father, Michael McGowan, who departed this life on October 14, 1907. Though lost to sight, to never be seen again, by his sorrowing wife, and son, Jim.

NEWLAND.—In loving memory of my little daughter, Gladys, wife of Newland, who departed this life October 14, 1907, at her home.

NEWLAND.—In fond, loving memory of my dear mother, Mary James, who departed this life October 14, 1907, at her home, by her loving daughter, Emily, Daisy, and Alice.

RETURN THANKS.

GOODWIN.—Mrs. AUSTIN GOODWIN AND FAMILY, of "Windsor," Darley-road, Manly, desire to express their thanks to many friends for their well-wishes, letters, and telegrams received during their recent absence and bereavement.

ADVERTISING.

STEPHENSON.—In aid and loving memory of our dear mother, Mary, who died October 14, 1907, at her home, by her loving daughter, Mrs. K. H. Paul.

STEPHENSON.—In aid and loving memory of our dear mother, Mary, who died October 14, 1907, at her home, by her loving daughter, Mrs. K. H. Paul.

RETURN THANKS.

GOODWIN.—Mrs. AUSTIN GOODWIN AND FAMILY, of "Windsor," Darley-road, Manly, desire to express their thanks to many friends for their well-wishes, letters, and telegrams received during their recent absence and bereavement.

INDEX.

NEWS.

Page

Law Notices 11

Leaders, etc. 3

Military and Com- mercial 3

Mining Intelligence 11

Political 11

Post and Telegraphic 11

Proprietary Medicines 11

Properties and Patents 11

Real Estate 11

Shipping, Meteor, etc. 11

Sporting 11

Trade, etc. 11

Wills, etc. 11

THE SYDNEY MORNING HERALD, MONDAY, OCTOBER 14, 1897.

ARBITRATION OF NATIONS.

DESPOTISM OF A MINORITY.

LONDON, Oct. 11.
The first committee of the International Conference at the Hague adopted the proposal for a permanent Court of Arbitral Justice, and recommended that it should become operative when the Powers agreed to the appointment of Judges and the constitution of the Court.

Mr. J. H. Choate, United States representative, in referring to the attitude of the minor States, denounced "the most abominable despotism of an unimportant minority."

Oct. 12.

The First Committee of the International Conference at the Hague, by 40 votes, with four abstentions, adopted a declaration in favour of the principle of obligatory arbitration to settle certain differences between nations, notably those relating to the interpretation and application of conventional stipulations between nations. The declaration added that although it had not up to now been possible to conclude a convention in that sense the discussions had not exceeded the limits of judicial controversy.

Mr. J. H. Choate, representing the United States, declared that America abstained from adhering to the declaration, which was a retreat from the advance previously won.

PREVENTION OF SEDITION.

GENERAL INDIAN MEASURE.

LONDON, Oct. 12.
The Legislative Council of India is about to enact a permanent measure to prevent seditious meetings applicable to any province as the Viceroy may decide.

When in May last matters in the Punjab were extraneous owing to the organisation of the Amritsar Committee, the Government, it was the same person as the Fifth Duke of Portland. Evidence, it is stated, has been obtained from Mr. Amritsar that he was not tried under section 145 of the Criminal Procedure Code, for £60, carriage duty, in the case of unauthorised imports were, the defrauded.

RECOGNITION OF UNIONISM.

RAILWAY COMPANIES OBSTINATE.

LONDON, Oct. 12.
The Railway Companies' Association has rejected the suggestion of Mr. Richard Hall, M.P., secretary of the Amalgamated Society of Railway Servants, that three members of the association should meet three of the delegates of the Amalgamated Society to discuss the meaning of the term "recognition of the society and officials."

The conference of the Amalgamated Society of Railway Servants will be held at Glasgow next year. The society has appointed delegates to attend the adjourned conference of the Federation of Railway Trade Unions at Manchester.

THE TYPE OF IMMIGRANT.

HONEST MEN OF THE WHITE-WASHED.

LONDON, Oct. 12.
The British Passengers' Association entertained Sir Horace Toller, Agent-General for Queensland; Mr. G. J. Jenkins, Agent-General for South Australia; and Captain Collins, Representative of the Commonwealth, at dinner.

The president of the association complained of religious organisations competing in the emigration business by sending out to the colonies so-called white-washed characters, who would not compare with the honest artisans and agriculturists whom the passenger agents deputed to ship.

DISESTABLISHMENT IN WALES.

THE EDUCATION BILL.

LONDON, Oct. 11.
Mr. Lloyd George, president of the Board of Trade, who was interviewed in Wales, declared that the last Education Bill was the greatest and most drastic measure towards the disestablishment and disendowment of the State Church ever proposed, since it would have disestablished 13,000 of the Church's seminaries, daily attended by 2,500,000 children.

BELGRADE MURDERS.

HOME MINISTER PRESENT.

LONDON, Oct. 12.
M. Zerovics, ex-Prefect of Belgrade, disclaims responsibility for the death of M. Novotrovic and his companion, anti-revolutionary writers, in prison. He declares that M. Petrovics, Minister of the Interior, was present in the prison when both were killed.

Novotrovic and his companion, an officer of the Serbian Army, were arrested for writing articles protesting against the regicides being retained in office. They were kept in prison without trial for nearly two months. It was stated that they had been firing rifles at the goal to amuse the popular, and that after two months they committed suicide. Rights occurred at the funeral of the murdered prisoners.

FOR CONSCIENCE SAKE.

HINDU DEFIES THE TRANSVAAL.

LONDON, Oct. 12.
The renewal of a temporary permit held by a Hindu priest at Johannesburg was refused, and he was ordered instantaneously to quit the colony. The priest declines to go, on the ground that he has a higher duty to perform.

THE LUSITANIA'S RECORD.

TWENTY-FOUR KNOTS.

LONDON, Oct. 12.
The average speed of the Cunard liner Lusitania, 32,000 tons, on her last voyage across the Atlantic from Liverpool to New York was 24 knots.

NEW ZEALAND FOOTBALLERS.

DEFAT HUDDERSFIELD.

LONDON, Oct. 12.
The New Zealand team of footballers defeated Huddersfield yesterday. Huddersfield held the upper hand until half-time, when it was leading by 8 points (1 goal 1 try) to 3 (1 try). In the second half the New Zealand team rallied, and obtained 2 goals and 4 tries while Huddersfield was obtaining one try. The final scores were: New Zealand, 2 goals 5 tries; Huddersfield, 1 goal 2 tries.

EMPEROR OF AUSTRIA ILL.

UNFAVOURABLE REPORT.

HEAVY FALL ON VIENNA BOURSE.

LONDON, Oct. 11.
The health of the Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria-Hungary is causing some anxiety. The official bulletin asserts that though fatigued and his appetite impaired the feverish cold from which he is suffering is subsiding.

The anxiety is reflected on the Vienna bourse, where there has been a heavy fall in stocks.

The latest report regarding the condition of the Emperor Francis Joseph is rather unfavourable.

The Emperor Francis Joseph is 77 years of age. The fear has often been expressed that only his life prevents the disruption of the Empire.

THE DUKE CASE.

CLAIMANT ALLEGES PERJURY.

LONDON, Oct. 12.
George Hollomby Druse, claimant to certain estates of the fifth Duke of Portland, has obtained a summons against Herbert Druse, charging him with perjury in swearing that he saw Thomas Charles Druse, his father, alleged to be the fifth Duke of Portland, dead in a coffin in December, 1864.

Conrad said that a number of witnesses had deposed that they saw T. C. Druse alive many years later. The summons is returnable in a fortnight.

PREVENTION OF SEDITION.

GENERAL INDIAN MEASURE.

LONDON, Oct. 12.
The Legislative Council of India is about to enact a permanent measure to prevent seditious meetings applicable to any province as the Viceroy may decide.

Mr. G. H. Druse has taken proceedings for the prevention of sedition, a fact that is the grandchild of the Fifth Duke of Portland. What has to be determined is the truth or otherwise of the allegations made that Thomas Charles Druse, the fifth Duke of Portland, was the same person as the Fifth Duke of Portland. Evidence, it is stated, has been obtained from Mr. Amritsar that he was to be tried under section 145 of the Criminal Procedure Code, for £60, carriage duty, in the case of unauthorised imports were, the defrauded.

It is alleged he is able to depose that the Fifth Duke of Portland was personally known to him, as also the duke, and as Druse, and that he assisted in conducting the mock burial of Druse.

DESCRIPTION OF BURGUNDY.

FRENCH OR AUSTRALIAN.

LONDON, Oct. 12.
The Wine and Spirit Merchants' Association is prosecuting a Kensington tradesman for selling as burgundy a bottle of Keystone burgundy, which is Australian and not the product of the French Burgundy district. The labels contained no reference to Australia.

The proprietors of the Keystone brand said that they proposed before the prosecution to have the certificate of the South Australian Government analyst printed on the labels.

The hearing of the case was adjourned.

CANADIAN ENTERPRISE.

SEEKING SKILLED WORKMEN.

LONDON, Oct. 11.
A labour bureau has been established in England to recruit skilled labour for Canadian manufacturers; 400 operatives have already been sent, and 100 more are needed.

CHINESE ON THE RAND.

LONDON, Oct. 11.

Sir Albert Speer, M.P., who recently visited the compounds and declared that the Chinese were the spoilt children of the Rand, declares that he is still utterly opposed to Chinese immigration to the Transvaal.

IMPERIAL PRODUCE STAKES.

VAMOSE AND LESBIA DEAD HEAT.

LONDON, Oct. 12.
At the Kempton Park October Meeting yesterday the principal race was under.

IMPERIAL PRODUCE STAKES of 2000 sovereigns the nominator of the winner to receive 200 sovereigns, the nominator of the second 100 sovereigns, and so on down to the tenth, who will receive 20 sovereigns each. The owner of the third 50 sovereigns out of the stakes; penalties and allowances; for two-year-olds, £1000; 3-year-olds, £1000; fillies, and geldings, £1000.

Sir Daniel Cooper's b. Leslie, by St. Fructuosa—Giles, Duke of Cambridge's b. Vamose, by Ozone—Vampire, Mr. J. Musker's ch. c. Chevalier—Midnight, 100 sovereigns.

Mr. J. Musker's ch. c. Chevalier—Midnight, 100 sovereigns.

The entrants for the Imperial Produce Stake totalled 162, and among the subscribers were the leading British sportsmen Leslie, who was chairman of the Amritsar Committee, and Daniel Cooper, from Glare, by Ayrshire from Portland, by whom the celebrated Flying Fox, who was purchased by the French sportsman Mr. E. Blane, for £1000, was bred. The Flying Fox, who was the son of the celebrated Flying Fox, was purchased by Mr. F. Bradley's Two Ladies, and two gentle ones, who had been standing on the hill overlooking the ocean so that they could plainly see the shark, which was a very large one, swimming along side.

Nolan, who resides in Stamford Street, Kursi Kurredi, had been staying with friends in Merewether.

Just as Nolan was about to leave he was approached by a man who was holding a gun and shouting, "I'll shoot you if you don't give me 100 sovereigns." Nolan, who was a resident of Derby-street, Whitechapel, and is suffering severely from shock, he could say little concerning his sensational experience. From the moment he heard the words he was in a panic, and fled, dropping his coat, and ran away. Just as he reached the beach he was overtaken by a man who was holding a gun and shouting, "I'll shoot you if you don't give me 100 sovereigns." Nolan, who was a resident of Derby-street, Whitechapel, and is suffering severely from shock, he could say little concerning his sensational experience. From the moment he heard the words he was in a panic, and fled, dropping his coat, and ran away. Just as he reached the beach he was overtaken by a man who was holding a gun and shouting, "I'll shoot you if you don't give me 100 sovereigns." Nolan, who was a resident of Derby-street, Whitechapel, and is suffering severely from shock, he could say little concerning his sensational experience. From the moment he heard the words he was in a panic, and fled, dropping his coat, and ran away. Just as he reached the beach he was overtaken by a man who was holding a gun and shouting, "I'll shoot you if you don't give me 100 sovereigns." Nolan, who was a resident of Derby-street, Whitechapel, and is suffering severely from shock, he could say little concerning his sensational experience. From the moment he heard the words he was in a panic, and fled, dropping his coat, and ran away. Just as he reached the beach he was overtaken by a man who was holding a gun and shouting, "I'll shoot you if you don't give me 100 sovereigns." Nolan, who was a resident of Derby-street, Whitechapel, and is suffering severely from shock, he could say little concerning his sensational experience. From the moment he heard the words he was in a panic, and fled, dropping his coat, and ran away. Just as he reached the beach he was overtaken by a man who was holding a gun and shouting, "I'll shoot you if you don't give me 100 sovereigns." Nolan, who was a resident of Derby-street, Whitechapel, and is suffering severely from shock, he could say little concerning his sensational experience. From the moment he heard the words he was in a panic, and fled, dropping his coat, and ran away. Just as he reached the beach he was overtaken by a man who was holding a gun and shouting, "I'll shoot you if you don't give me 100 sovereigns." Nolan, who was a resident of Derby-street, Whitechapel, and is suffering severely from shock, he could say little concerning his sensational experience. From the moment he heard the words he was in a panic, and fled, dropping his coat, and ran away. Just as he reached the beach he was overtaken by a man who was holding a gun and shouting, "I'll shoot you if you don't give me 100 sovereigns." Nolan, who was a resident of Derby-street, Whitechapel, and is suffering severely from shock, he could say little concerning his sensational experience. From the moment he heard the words he was in a panic, and fled, dropping his coat, and ran away. Just as he reached the beach he was overtaken by a man who was holding a gun and shouting, "I'll shoot you if you don't give me 100 sovereigns." Nolan, who was a resident of Derby-street, Whitechapel, and is suffering severely from shock, he could say little concerning his sensational experience. From the moment he heard the words he was in a panic, and fled, dropping his coat, and ran away. Just as he reached the beach he was overtaken by a man who was holding a gun and shouting, "I'll shoot you if you don't give me 100 sovereigns." Nolan, who was a resident of Derby-street, Whitechapel, and is suffering severely from shock, he could say little concerning his sensational experience. From the moment he heard the words he was in a panic, and fled, dropping his coat, and ran away. Just as he reached the beach he was overtaken by a man who was holding a gun and shouting, "I'll shoot you if you don't give me 100 sovereigns." Nolan, who was a resident of Derby-street, Whitechapel, and is suffering severely from shock, he could say little concerning his sensational experience. From the moment he heard the words he was in a panic, and fled, dropping his coat, and ran away. Just as he reached the beach he was overtaken by a man who was holding a gun and shouting, "I'll shoot you if you don't give me 100 sovereigns." Nolan, who was a resident of Derby-street, Whitechapel, and is suffering severely from shock, he could say little concerning his sensational experience. From the moment he heard the words he was in a panic, and fled, dropping his coat, and ran away. Just as he reached the beach he was overtaken by a man who was holding a gun and shouting, "I'll shoot you if you don't give me 100 sovereigns." Nolan, who was a resident of Derby-street, Whitechapel, and is suffering severely from shock, he could say little concerning his sensational experience. From the moment he heard the words he was in a panic, and fled, dropping his coat, and ran away. Just as he reached the beach he was overtaken by a man who was holding a gun and shouting, "I'll shoot you if you don't give me 100 sovereigns." Nolan, who was a resident of Derby-street, Whitechapel, and is suffering severely from shock, he could say little concerning his sensational experience. From the moment he heard the words he was in a panic, and fled, dropping his coat, and ran away. Just as he reached the beach he was overtaken by a man who was holding a gun and shouting, "I'll shoot you if you don't give me 100 sovereigns." Nolan, who was a resident of Derby-street, Whitechapel, and is suffering severely from shock, he could say little concerning his sensational experience. From the moment he heard the words he was in a panic, and fled, dropping his coat, and ran away. Just as he reached the beach he was overtaken by a man who was holding a gun and shouting, "I'll shoot you if you don't give me 100 sovereigns." Nolan, who was a resident of Derby-street, Whitechapel, and is suffering severely from shock, he could say little concerning his sensational experience. From the moment he heard the words he was in a panic, and fled, dropping his coat, and ran away. Just as he reached the beach he was overtaken by a man who was holding a gun and shouting, "I'll shoot you if you don't give me 100 sovereigns." Nolan, who was a resident of Derby-street, Whitechapel, and is suffering severely from shock, he could say little concerning his sensational experience. From the moment he heard the words he was in a panic, and fled, dropping his coat, and ran away. Just as he reached the beach he was overtaken by a man who was holding a gun and shouting, "I'll shoot you if you don't give me 100 sovereigns." Nolan, who was a resident of Derby-street, Whitechapel, and is suffering severely from shock, he could say little concerning his sensational experience. From the moment he heard the words he was in a panic, and fled, dropping his coat, and ran away. Just as he reached the beach he was overtaken by a man who was holding a gun and shouting, "I'll shoot you if you don't give me 100 sovereigns." Nolan, who was a resident of Derby-street, Whitechapel, and is suffering severely from shock, he could say little concerning his sensational experience. From the moment he heard the words he was in a panic, and fled, dropping his coat, and ran away. Just as he reached the beach he was overtaken by a man who was holding a gun and shouting, "I'll shoot you if you don't give me 100 sovereigns." Nolan, who was a resident of Derby-street, Whitechapel, and is suffering severely from shock, he could say little concerning his sensational experience. From the moment he heard the words he was in a panic, and fled, dropping his coat, and ran away. Just as he reached the beach he was overtaken by a man who was holding a gun and shouting, "I'll shoot you if you don't give me 100 sovereigns." Nolan, who was a resident of Derby-street, Whitechapel, and is suffering severely from shock, he could say little concerning his sensational experience. From the moment he heard the words he was in a panic, and fled, dropping his coat, and ran away. Just as he reached the beach he was overtaken by a man who was holding a gun and shouting, "I'll shoot you if you don't give me 100 sovereigns." Nolan, who was a resident of Derby-street, Whitechapel, and is suffering severely from shock, he could say little concerning his sensational experience. From the moment he heard the words he was in a panic, and fled, dropping his coat, and ran away. Just as he reached the beach he was overtaken by a man who was holding a gun and shouting, "I'll shoot you if you don't give me 100 sovereigns." Nolan, who was a resident of Derby-street, Whitechapel, and is suffering severely from shock, he could say little concerning his sensational experience. From the moment he heard the words he was in a panic, and fled, dropping his coat, and ran away. Just as he reached the beach he was overtaken by a man who was holding a gun and shouting, "I'll shoot you if you don't give me 100 sovereigns." Nolan, who was a resident of Derby-street, Whitechapel, and is suffering severely from shock, he could say little concerning his sensational experience. From the moment he heard the words he was in a panic, and fled, dropping his coat, and ran away. Just as he reached the beach he was overtaken by a man who was holding a gun and shouting, "I'll shoot you if you don't give me 100 sovereigns." Nolan, who was a resident of Derby-street, Whitechapel, and is suffering severely from shock, he could say little concerning his sensational experience. From the moment he heard the words he was in a panic, and fled, dropping his coat, and ran away. Just as he reached the beach he was overtaken by a man who was holding a gun and shouting, "I'll shoot you if you don't give me 100 sovereigns." Nolan, who was a resident of Derby-street, Whitechapel, and is suffering severely from shock, he could say little concerning his sensational experience. From the moment he heard the words he was in a panic, and fled, dropping his coat, and ran away. Just as he reached the beach he was overtaken by a man who was holding a gun and shouting, "I'll shoot you if you don't give me 100 sovereigns." Nolan, who was a resident of Derby-street, Whitechapel, and is suffering severely from shock, he could say little concerning his sensational experience. From the moment he heard the words he was in a panic, and fled, dropping his coat, and ran away. Just as he reached the beach he was overtaken by a man who was holding a gun and shouting, "I'll shoot you if you don't give me 100 sovereigns." Nolan, who was a resident of Derby-street, Whitechapel, and is suffering severely from shock, he could say little concerning his sensational experience. From the moment he heard the words he was in a panic, and fled, dropping his coat, and ran away. Just as he reached the beach he was overtaken by a man who was holding a gun and shouting, "I'll shoot you if you don't give me 100 sovereigns." Nolan, who was a resident of Derby-street, Whitechapel, and is suffering severely from shock, he could say little concerning his sensational experience. From the moment he heard the words he was in a panic, and fled, dropping his coat, and ran away. Just as he reached the beach he was overtaken by a man who was holding a gun and shouting, "I'll shoot you if you don't give me 100 sovereigns." Nolan, who was a resident of Derby-street, Whitechapel, and is suffering severely from shock, he could say little concerning his sensational experience. From the moment he heard the words he was in a panic, and fled, dropping his coat, and ran away. Just as he reached the beach he was overtaken by a man who was holding a gun and shouting, "I'll shoot you if you don't give me 100 sovereigns." Nolan, who was a resident of Derby-street, Whitechapel, and is suffering severely from shock, he could say little concerning his sensational experience. From the moment he heard the words he was in a panic, and fled, dropping his coat, and ran away. Just as he reached the beach he was

